

Dear Mayoral Candidate,

I am writing to you regarding the safety and dignity of women and girls and ascertain your position on this issue.

The role of mayor is crucial for maintaining good community relations and public welfare. As the public face of the Council, the mayor must be seen to be fair and impartial towards all citizens, including women and girls.

Women all over the country are concerned at the rise of gender ideology and the impact that this has on our safety and privacy. In 2024, we find ourselves fighting for the right to single sex toilets, refuges, and sports opportunities. We watch as external agencies and charities, are hired by councils to train teachers and care workers, and to run youth groups. As mothers, aunts, sisters and grandmothers we understand the pressures on young people during puberty, especially during a time of crisis of mental health for young people.

As Mayor you would have considerable influence and a very public profile for promoting the safety of women and young people.

Can women rely on you to be honest about biological truths?

Will you ensure that  Council supports the rights of women and girls to safety and dignity?

I look forward to your response and hope I can rely on your support. Should you choose not to respond, I will assume that this is not a priority for you and will vote accordingly.

Yours etc
